First Fallout Shelter Built in GHI Home

By RITA FISHER

A dining room in a residence of Greenbelt has been converted into the first fallout shelter built in the community. The owner of the cinder-block home, who prefers to remain anonymous at this time, is employed at Goddard Space Flight Center and has felt that the time is now to prepare for an eventuality and to provide protection for his family against the deadly radiation in the event of a nuclear bomb attack.

The entire dining room was bricked from the inside with the exception of the closet and door to the kitchen. A brick partition has been built in the kitchen on one side of the opening into the dining room to block the entry of radiation while a freezer blocks the other side.

A cabinet is being planned which will fit snug against the door to the kitchen when needed. This cabinet which will have a metal base as a protection against fire, will be on rollers, and the back of the cabinet will be bricked.

The cinder block which was placed where the window had been, as well as the cinder block below it, has been filled with sand as added protection. Four inches of concrete were added to the ceiling before bricking.

Vents are provided for air and a pipe has been installed which will be used to pump air into the room with a hand pump. This pipe will have a Civil Defense-approved filter on it. There will be an exhaust pipe which will go through the kitchen door and through the cabinet in front of it.

The plans for this room were submitted to the OCDM, and the resident had to obtain approval from GHI, tri County Defense Agency, and Prince Georges County.

Although this resident has a contractor doing the work, he mentioned that this can be a do-it-yourself project. He noted that FHA financing can be obtained.

The resident has already placed a thirty-day supply of water in the wall-to-wall storage space which also provides seating in the room. He has been storing food stuffs in the closet. The family will continue to use the room for its original purpose and expressed the sincere hope that the money has been "wasted."

Further inquiries have revealed that a permit has been issued by the County Builder Inspector for the construction of an underground combination fallout and blast shelter for another GHI home-owner residing in a brick house. The resident told the News Review that this room will be also used as a recreation room but will be stocked and prepared for an emergency.

Civil Defense Job

Prince Georges County Civil Defense Director R. Hal Silvers is looking for qualified volunteers who are interested in taking on the responsibilities of Director of Civil Defense for the City of Greenbelt. Interested persons are asked to submit a letter to Silvers, care of P.G.C. Civil Defense Headquarters, Greenbelt Armory, stating their qualifications and interest in a local Civil Defense program.

Marjorie Muir Gets New County Position

Mrs. Marjorie Muir, head Greenbelt Librarian for the past ten years, has been named assistant to Miss Louise McDiarmid, coordinator of children's services for the County Library. She will end her duties at the Greenbelt Library this Friday.

The position of assistant to Miss MacDiarmid is a new one which Mrs. Muir feels offers her an "exciting challenge" in working with children. "On the other hand," she said, "I feel a little sad about leaving Greenbelt where I've had so many pleasant associations."

Mrs. Muir will not be leaving her poetry club, which she will continue to conduct at the Greenbelt Library and which coincidentally will have its first organization session this Friday. She will also retain her residence in Greenbelt.

The new head librarian who has been on the job for the past two weeks is Mrs. Helen R. Lichtenberg. She attended the University of Oklahoma and has worked as a newspaper woman in Oklahoma and for the Office of War Information and the U. S. Public Health Service in Washington.

Highway Overpasses Constructed Here

New highway overpasses will soon surround Greenbelt. Under construction now is a second bridge over the railroad tracks on Greenbelt Rd. in Branchville. With completion of the bridge, Greenbelt Rd. will then be dualized from the intersection with Kenilworth westward to Rhode Island Avenue.

At the same time, the first signs of activity on the construction of the Capital Beltway cloverleaf--1000 feet south of Glendale Rd. on the Baltimore Washington Parkway--are now in evidence. Work crews have been felling trees and clearing land, preparatory to constructing two overpasses for the new freeway.

Temporarily, these will connect with the present dualized Greenbelt Rd., which, with University Blvd., forms highway 193 to Langley Park. The section of the new Beltway, lying east of the Parkway will be under construction soon after the cloverleaf is completed. This will connect Greenbelt with Lanham.

Local 4-H Clubs Win 31 Fair Blue Ribbons

The two local 4-H groups, the Cloverbuds and the Cloverettes, garnered a total of 31 blue ribbons at the Charles County Fair held late last month. Highest winner was Cloverbud Linda Simonson who collected seven blue ribbons for cooking, sewing and flowers. Her twin sister Linda took six blue ribbons also for sewing, cooking and flowers. Another Cloverbud winner was Kathy Ryan with three blue ribbons for cooking. Ruth Amberg and Rita Shumaker were other Cloverbud entries.

Top winner for the Cloverettes was Elise Geller with five blue ribbons while her sister Barbara collected four. Barbara Skolnik won three blue ribbons.

Dr. William J. Thaler, nationally known scientist of the Office of Naval Research and professor of physics at Georgetown University, will speak at the next regular meeting of St. Hugh's Home and School Association on October 19 at 8 p.m.

The work of Dr. Thaler as a highly creative physicist in the defense field was hidden for eight years under a cloak of secrecy until 1958 when newspaper headlines revealed that he headed a project that developed a new technique for detecting missile launchings immediately after firing halfway around the world. The project is named Tepee which stands for T.P. or Thaler's project.

UGF Drive Set

New Huge Apartment Project Estimated to Bring 11,500 Here

Featuring an artificial lake about one-third the size of Greenbelt Lake, the largest apartment development in the Washington area, known as Springhill Lake, will be built in Greenbelt on the 311-acre tract bounded by Greenbelt Road and Kenilworth Avenue, according to plans announced last week by Community Builders. Construction on the more than 5000 apartment units, which will eventually increase the city's population by 11,500 residents, is scheduled to begin this winter.

Police News

A complaint was received on Friday evening concerning Greenbelt youths who were reported blocking the entrance to a place of business at the Center. The proprietor of the store complained that these youths were quite difficult to handle. Chief James Williams stated that an effort will be made to correct the situation. He further added that anyone blocking an entrance could be charged with disturbing the peace. This charge could also be placed against persons using abusive language in public places.

In another instance last week, a nineteen year old Greenbelt youth was charged with assault and battery and drunkenness for an unprovoked attack on a police department clerk as he walked through the Center. The clerk was injured in the ribs.

Three Greenbelt youths, ages 14 to 16, were charged by the complainant for throwing rocks at passing cars on the Parkway.

Police have received numerous complaints from various parts of town concerning noisy motorcycles. Unnecessary loud noises created by vehicles, such as motorcycles, could result in a charge of disturbing the peace to the owners.

A Greenbelt woman, arousing the suspicions of Co-op employees, was charged with shoplifting after being apprehended by police outside the store. Although only a few dollars worth of merchandise was found on her person, charges were placed against her.

Another water-filled balloon was thrown into an auto in the vicinity of 47 Ridge, according to a complaint received by police last Thursday. This is the second such incident reported in that area of town and is considered vandalism to an auto. Parents are advised to caution their children as to the possible danger of a serious auto accident if the driver of a vehicle should lose control of his auto as a result of being hit by a filled balloon.

A youngster was cautioned by police when he was found using a bow and arrow which was confiscated. The child was turned over to his parents for further reprimand.

Library Poetry Club

Greenbelt's youthful poets will gather at the Greenbelt Library at 4 p.m. on Friday to begin the fourth year of the "poetry hour" sponsored by the Prince Georges County Memorial Library and conducted by Mrs. Marjorie Muir. The first session will be an organization meeting at which Mrs. Muir, who organized the club four years ago, will explain its objectives.

Mrs. Muir and her group have received national publicity during the past several years. Each year the County Library publishes an anthology of the work of these youngsters, which include children in the third through sixth grade, with younger children occasionally accepted.

The session features a special candle-lighting ceremony following which original poems by the youngsters are read. The poetry hour is unique in the county.

The apartment units with one, two or three bedrooms will include luxury lakeside units, garden apartments, town houses and some elevator buildings. All will be air conditioned with picture windows, patios and balconies. Special facilities planned for the project are a swimming pool, compact golf course, a community house, a shopping pavilion a garden at the entrance of the community, and lakeside walks and terraces. Occupancy will begin in late spring.

The project is owned by Greenbelt Associates, a syndicate headed by Isadore M. Gudeisky, owner of such business interests as Prince Georges Plaza and Wheaton Plaza. It is estimated that the total value of Springhill Lake will be $50 million when completed, making it the largest single project in Washington, with the largest concentration of apartment zoning granted in one site.

Community Builders have won 14 different national and local awards for Sleepy Hollow Woods in Virginia. Their current 350-home Tilden Woods development in Bethesda was recently selected as a national McCall's Magazine award winner. They have engaged in apartment construction in the District and in Richmond, Frederick, Laurel, and currently in Norfolk and Arlington. They state they expect to complete the 5000 units "within a relatively short period of time."

In a special economic survey conducted for the building firm, Community Builders point out that over 19,000 families will need rental housing in this market area within the next ten years. They further claim that the average family income in the Springhill Lake market area will be over $11,000 by 1970.

One of the Washington daily papers in describing the new apartment project made the following comment: "Appropriately, Springhill Lake abuts the town of Greenbelt which was the first professionally planned suburban rental community in the nation. Completed in 1938 by the old Resettlement Administration, it housed 1,000 families and cost the Federal Government over $31 million."

Paving Completed

The special experimental paving of Westway and the south ends of Ridge and Crescent was completed last Friday by the A. H. Smith Co. of Branchville, who received the contract for the work. The parking shoulders along this stretch of pavement are still to be completed. These call for a less expensive type of paving -- liquid asphalt into which small stones are later embedded. This final paving will probably be done at the beginning of next week, and parking along the streets affected will be restricted for one day.

Youth Center Hours

The Youth Center is presently open Monday through Thursday from 4:15 to 5:30 p.m. for teenage record hops, table tennis, pool, volleyball, basketball and social talking with a coke. Members of the teen club must show their membership cards whenever entering the Youth Center.

County Takes Our Librarian

We are regretful but not really suprised that the county library system has snatched our librarian for a new position on the county staff. Mrs. Marjorie Muir, Greenbelt Librarian for ten years, has that imaginative spark which can transform a library into a place of adventure for children. Her greatest triumph has been her poetry club which has created an oasis in the desert of television trivia in which to-day's children exist. For three years her poetry hour, unique in the county library system, has drawn from elementary school youngsters creative thoughts and ideas which otherwise might have lain buried for years -- perhaps forever. We are fortunate that through the poetry group, which begins its fourth year this Friday under her direction, Greenbelt will continue to retain a hold on her.

Although Mrs. Muir will no longer man the crowded room in the Center School that serves as our library, Greenbelt is certain to benefit from her new position. As assistant to Miss Louise McDiarmid, coordinator for children's services, she will have a wider scope to develop her ideas for special programs designed to spur our children's interest in good books and deepen their knowledge of world literature. It is a great credit to the county library that it is expanding its children's services in this manner and that it has chosen Mrs. Muir to get the job done.

Let us also welcome our new librarian, Mrs. Helen Lichtenberg, who we hope will eventually preside over a bigger and better library in our community.

Keep Youth Active

To the Editor:

After reading Mrs. Fisher's recent letter, I wish to comment on one important item that was not mentioned, the role of parents in the social life of teen-agers.

Where were the parents of the three young girls out at 2:30 a.m.? When do these children with too much time on their hands do their homework? What amount of rest are they expected to have before a day in school? Children at the teen-age dances and roller skating are not prohibited from taking time out to have a coke and conversation.

As the mother of a teen-ager, may I suggest additional activities, such as music, participation in athletics, hobbies, such as stamp, coin or rock collecting, scouting, a dash of responsibility at home. Granted that these activities require time and effort on the part of parents, that is where the responsibility for children's activities rightfully rests, not with a city or county government.

I appreciate the programs offered by our recreation department but do not feel that this alone should provide all the outside entertainment for my teen-ager.

I am wholeheartedly against tax-paid substitutes for parents.

Mrs. W. B. Keer

Family Fun Night

To The Editor:

Too many families are missing out on knowing what having fun together means. It seems that each person in every family has his own special outlet. Now something has been done to bring that family back to a real family union.

Every month beginning Tuesday, October 17, there will be a Family Fun Night held at the Youth Center. This is to encourage a closeness of family members and in time establish a warmth between new members and old ones. Family Fun Night is for your family, without you it will literally be a flop.

Don't worry about baby sitters, the Twin-Pines Savings and Loan Company will provide these. There will be skating, square dancing, pleasure dancing, table games (chess, checkers, etc.), table tennis, refreshments and entertainment. Of course it costs, but you can't find many activities to be played with your family and friends, or the shocking realization that your family is really having a ball, for only one dollar per family or fifty cents per one adult with family.

This Fun Night operation needs your support. It isn't silly as some might think, (imagine grown-ups skating!). Once you let your worries fade out and really decide to enjoy yourself, your family and friends, you'll be surprised at how much fun you've had. Just let yourself go. It will be held from 8 until 11. It's for you so just give it a try. You haven't anything to lose and perhaps much to gain.

Remember, "A family that prays together stays together." So does a family that "plays together".

Boys Club Drive

To the Editor:

The Board of Directors of the Greenbelt Boys Club take this opportunity to thank the many friends of the boys club who donated to our recent drive. For the benefit of people who were not at home when we called, membership cards may still be obtained by calling President Bud Dean at GR 4-6086 after 7:30 p.m. As all donations are not in yet, a final accounting cannot yet be made. It will be published when available.

Once again it is time to warn all residents of Greenbelt that there is a City Ordinance against burning leaves. A burning Permit may be obtained from the Police Department.

Siren Notes

By RITA FISHER

This has been, and still is, National Fire Prevention Week. Throughout our nation, firemen, both volunteers and paid have been publicizing fire prevention more than usual and have been concentrating their time and efforts towards educating young children in the hazards and precautions taken pertaining to fire.

Locally, our men have already visited the schools in town with booklets and loads of information for the youngsters. Letters have been sent to local business concerns requesting permission for a member of the department to check the stores for possible fire hazards. Posters have been placed in store windows throughout the Center accompanied in several stores by a number of pamphlets on the subject of fire, its hazards and preventative measures.

There is a Hazard Spotters Contest going on which will have as prizes, trophies for the 9-11, 13-14, and 14-16 year old age group. Greenbelt youngsters have been asked to look for possible fire hazards, both in or about their own homes as well as any other locations where a hazard is spotted.

It isn't too often that our men are called upon to fight major house fires in Greenbelt. Let look into the closets, storage bins and attics and keep the fire fighting equipment going past our city limits whenever the siren blows.

The Hazard Spotters Contest, open to all youngsters between the ages of 9-16, will come to an end on October 14. To date no letters have been recieved by the Fire Department from the youngsters of Greenbelt. Surely, there are a few hazards that can be spotted by youngsters that can be written about. A reminder that trophies will be awarded to three age groups and souvenir awards will be made to all who submit a letter. Letters can be mailed to the Fire Department or dropped in a box behind the ambulance at the fire house. This contest is being held in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week and winners will be announced on November 2 in the News Review.

In the letter written to the Fire Department, youngsters are asked to tell about a fire hazard they have seen in Greenbelt and also mention what they did about it.

Junior Hi-Lites

By BARBARA SKOLNIK

Good news for the Greenbelt Junior High students! It was just announced that the two story addition to the school will be finished by December 24, 1961. In the new building will be housed science and band rooms, an exercise room for gymnastic activities and a library. In addition to the construction of the new annex, parts of the main building have been remodeled.

After the students make the move to their new permanent quarters, the old annex will be torn down.

On September 23, four Bear News members went to a convention at the Baltimore College. Judy Attick, David Jefferson, Ronnie Newkirk, and Becky Chiavetti learned about the content and layout of a paper.

JCC Spaghetti-Rama

A "Spaghetti-Rama" will be held at the Jewish Community Center on October 15, Sunday afternoon, from 5 to 7 p.m. Spaghetti and meat sauce, prepared on the premises by members of the Center, will be served buffet style, accompanied by music. Tickets will be sold at the door.

YOU CAN BE TWO PLACES AT ONCE...WITH

AN EXTENSION PHONE

The phone rings. The baby wants a cookie. The percolator's about to boil over. And so is your temper.

You need an extension phone.

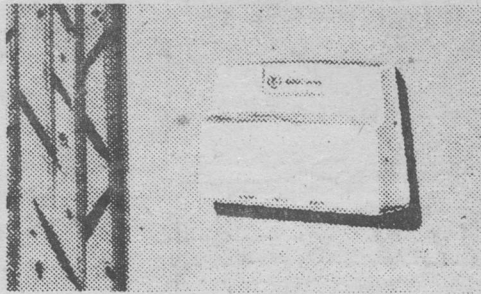

In the kitchen, bedroom, any room, an extension lets you enjoy your calls without interrupting your work. You save time and steps. Feel more relaxed at the end of the day.

An extension brightens your home, too. Shown above is the new Princess. It's little, it's lovely, it lights. And it comes in white, beige, pink, blue or turquoise with a small beige ringer on the baseboard.

Other wall and table phones are available in a prism of pretty colors.

Enjoy an extension phone in your home at a surprisingly low cost. To see how low, just call your C & P Business Office, today.

NEW BELL CHIME can call you to the telephone three different ways. You can set it for a melodic chime. A loud bell. Or for the regular telephone ring. Choose your new Bell Chime in ivory or gold. Inexpensive.
